

Course Number: 4000

Course Title: Rhetoric and Argumentation

What additional resources are needed to teach this course? Check all that apply.

Security

Equipment

Faculty

Equip

Textbooks

Other

Other

COMM 4010 4000
Rhetoric and Argumentation

Catalog Description:

This course provides students the skills to construct sound arguments and critically evaluate the

Student Learning Outcomes:

1. Analyze and evaluate the rhetorical strategies used in various forms of communication.

2. Construct and deliver persuasive oral presentations.

3. Write effective persuasive essays.

Prerequisites:

English 101 and English 102 or permission of the instructor. This course helps to prepare students for further education and the workforce.

4. Apply critical thinking and analysis to various forms of communication.

5. Research, organize, and write persuasive essays.

6. Apply critical thinking and analysis to various forms of communication.

7. Apply critical thinking and analysis to various forms of communication.

8. Apply critical thinking and analysis to various forms of communication.

9. Apply critical thinking and analysis to various forms of communication.

10. Apply critical thinking and analysis to various forms of communication.

11. Apply critical thinking and analysis to various forms of communication.

12. Apply critical thinking and analysis to various forms of communication.

13. Apply critical thinking and analysis to various forms of communication.

14. Apply critical thinking and analysis to various forms of communication.

15. Apply critical thinking and analysis to various forms of communication.

16. Apply critical thinking and analysis to various forms of communication.

17. Apply critical thinking and analysis to various forms of communication.

18. Apply critical thinking and analysis to various forms of communication.

19. Apply critical thinking and analysis to various forms of communication.

20. Apply critical thinking and analysis to various forms of communication.

21. Apply critical thinking and analysis to various forms of communication.

22. Apply critical thinking and analysis to various forms of communication.

23. Apply critical thinking and analysis to various forms of communication.

Case

Week 3: Toulmin Model of Argumentation and

Week 6: Creating an Affirmative Case

Week 7: Refutation and Building a Negative Case

Week 8: Evaluating Debate

Week 3: Toulmin Model of Argumentation and

Week 6: Creating an Affirmative Case

Week 15: In-Class Debate #2 and Final Exam Preparation

---